

Calling All Parents!!!

(...especially those who love children and math...)

This year at Bancroft, we are organizing blocks of time where small groups of children can work with volunteers on some extra math challenges and enrichment. We spent many hours this summer organizing our resources and compiling grade level specific challenges for the children to work on. Now all we need are some wonderful volunteers to work with these children on these challenges and to facilitate these small groups. We are hoping to get 2 to three volunteers per grade level to come in every other week. If you are interested in volunteering in any capacity, please contact Lauren King or Phalguni Shah for details.

Sincerely,
